Majestic Surroundings. Masterful Service.

Situated in the stunning landscape of Boise, Idaho, surrounded by tranquil, majestic mountains, Western Aircraft offers premium maintenance services for an extensive selection of aircraft, including Gulfstream, Falcon, Embraer, King Air, Pilatus, Piper, and Citation. The company boasts a substantial customer base spanning the United States, Canada, and Mexico.

A Storied Legacy: Western Aircraft's Journey

Beginnings: A humble start as Morrison Knudsen Corporation's flight department more than 60 years ago.

Evolution: From acquiring its first FAA-Certified Repair Station Certificate in 1957, expanding with three more hangars during the 1980s, to its rise as the world's largest Pilatus dealership.

Modern Era: Today, Western Aircraft proudly stands with more than 100,000 square feet of maintenance hangar space, plus dedicated shops for avionics, interiors (including wood and soft goods), and structures.

World-Class Certifications and Recognitions

- FAA and EASA-certified Class IV aircraft repair station
- Acclaimed ISO 9001:2015 and AS 9110C certification
- Proudly holding international certifications with Mexico and the Canadian TCCA Supplement

Room for Excellence

Western Aircraft recently unveiled its $18M, 93,000 sq. ft. expansion including:

- A state-of-the-art 53,000 sq. ft. hangar
- A sophisticated 40,000 sq. ft. back office, including new Avionics and Interiors shops
- All on the company's 18-acre leasehold
- In total, Western Aircraft has 220,000 sq. ft. of hangar and support space and an on-site parts warehouse
